Where you can grow enough

- As an Intern – see and treat the basics well
- ‘Common things occur commonly’
- Regional case mix means that you get good at the important diagnoses
- 240 beds is a perfect size
- Build on a strong foundation in later years
- Apply your knowledge to every speciality

Dr Aiden Lyon
INTERN
(Griffith University)

“I thought it would be good to get a general idea of how things worked rather than subspecialty intricacies first up.

I wanted to be in a smaller group – not one of a million junior doctors”

Where you can do enough

Practice

Simulation Centre

High fidelity simulation

Part Trainers

Mannequins for LPs, catheters, birth models and more...

Where you can do enough In real life

Redcliffe Hospital

Dr Aiden Lyon
INTERN
(Griffith University)

“I chose Redcliffe because I wanted the intimacy of a small hospital where I would be able to take responsibility for the patients.”

Everyone raves about their experience here, so I was confident to choose Redcliffe.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Where you can see enough

You've spent years with paper patients, tutorials and reading books...

YOU NEED EXPOSURE TO REAL PATIENTS

At Redcliffe Hospital, you will...

- Know how to recognise a sick patient by treating a sick patient
- Learn how to manage disease by treating disease
- Be an integral part of the team
- See variety – community to critical care patients

Redcliffe Hospital

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“ I wanted to be part of the team and here at Redcliffe you can be on the Medical Emergency Team, and the Resuscitation team in the Emergency Department. They’re fantastic learning experiences.”

Where you can learn enough

- Centre of excellence for education
- Intern-only education
- Strong Junior Doctor Program – Good for Interns, JHOs and SHOs
- Grand Rounds
- Teaching ward rounds
- Specialty specific tutorials
- Great library and new education spaces

Innovative programmes – only Intern surgical operating theatre program in Queensland

Redcliffe Hospital

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“I’d been a student here so I knew that the teaching and learning opportunities are excellent. All the Consultants and Registrars want to teach.”

The Intern Only Education sessions are really practical. I’m applying what I learnt at med school to prescribing fluids and other Intern jobs.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Where you can feel supported enough

- Someone is always available if you need them
- You have backup 24 hours a day from Registrars
- A Consultant personally oversees your progress in each rotation
- The Medical Education Team provides you with support and assistance

Where you have enough opportunities

- Broad clinical exposure
- Recognised training facility for multiple specialties

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“I know that internship at Redcliffe leads to all sorts of Registrar positions. I took three years off to do my PhD and the people I know from earlier years all went on to training programs having completed their internship and up to SHO level here at Redcliffe.”

Your references are really important to get on to training programs. As the Consultants here get to know you really well, if you work hard it’s easy to get a good reference.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Where you have enough options

Dr Aiden Lyon
INTERN
(Griffith University)

“...I could be close to family, close to Brisbane, and an hour either way to the Gold and Sunshine coasts.

That’s why I think Redcliffe is the perfect place to be.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Where you can live enough

- You can choose to live by the sea, on acreage or in an inner city apartment
- Affordable rental housing walking distance to the hospital
- Easy access to
  - beach – 10 minutes
  - city – 30 minutes
  - international airport – 20 minutes
- Free parking near the hospital
- Flexible leave
  - Take your holidays all at once or a week at a time. The choice is yours!

Redcliffe Hospital

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“I can live in Brisbane and it’s only a short drive to work.

It’s a small hospital experience with a big city lifestyle.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Where you can feel special enough

- Be an integral part of the team where people know your name
- Don't be a number
- Individualised experience
- Choice of rotations tailored to your career choice

The vast majority of interns stay on as second year JHOs

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“I like personal medicine for both you and the patient. You aren’t a number. Here there’s more opportunity to treat the patient as a whole, not as a disease at their local community hospital.”

Redcliffe Hospital

Dr Aiden Lyon
INTERN
(Griffith University)

“If I had to choose an Intern place again this year – I’d choose Redcliffe.”

I’m staying here next year. See you then.”

Dr Morgan Davidson
INTERN
(University of Qld)

“I knew the minute I did my student terms here that I was going to come back as an Intern.”

*I’m staying next year.
See you soon!”*
